- History

 - Met and befriended warlock Killean Felborne
 - In his wandering entered the Burning Steppes and was attacked by a Black Drake
 - Snowblind was destroyed, killed beyond Forgewalker's ability to revive him.
 - Tamed another pet, eventually, a boar.
 - During an adventure attempted to summon his new pet, however the ghost of Snowblind answered his summons.
 - Renamed Snowblind as Phantom
 - Works for the Alliance forces primarily against the Horde in key hotspots as both a tracker and a sniper
 - Lost his left eye to an orc battle axe before Phantom was able to attack the orc.
 - Ran out of bullets and the orc found his position
 - As a result of the orc getting that close, past the usefulness of his spear and effectively unarmed, has had blades added to all of his guns in one form or another so even out of ammo, and without a normal melee weapon he is never unarmed.
